The Counseling and Mental Health Center at the University of Texas at Austin offers two comprehensive practicum experiences. The General Psychotherapy Practicum includes training in two central areas of clinical work, namely individual psychotherapy and group psychotherapy. The Integrated Health Practicum focuses on health psychology and interventions with clients referred for services by medical professionals.

Before you begin completing the application, please make sure you carefully read through the information and instructions below. Also, please make sure you have read the description of the practicum options carefully and are willing and able to meet the requirements outlined.

General Psychotherapy Practicum

Eligibility Requirements:
Applicants for the General Psychotherapy Practicum at CMHC must meet the following criteria:
